Randolph Stow

The Inaugural Randolph Stow Annual Memorial Lecture was held on Tuesday 20th of September at the St. George’s College Chapel. Guest speaker Dr. Gabriellee Carey delivered an engaging address on Randolph Stow as a young artist.

Perth actor Michael Loney accompanied the lecture with excerpts from Stow’s work and personal papers.

Westerly 2/2010 has a special section on Randolph Stow’s life and works and is available from the Westerly Office or website.

Asia-Pacific Symposium

The digital revolution affects literature more than any other of the arts. This symposium seeks to investigate the implications of the digital revolution on literature and culture in the Asia-Pacific.

4th-7th December 2011

The Symposium will feature guest speakers from India, The Philippines, Malaysia, China, Japan and Indonesia.

We encourage you also to join ‘Writing Out of Asia’, a series of informal literary conversations (Roundtables) and workshops organised by the Asia-Pacific Writing Partnership at UWA in conjunction with the symposium.
Kit Keelen Translation Workshops

2011 Westerly Centre Residency brings Macao translators, Iris Fan Xing and Jo You Chengcheng to the University of Western Australia for the purpose of translating WA poets into Chinese. Coordinating the residency is the University of Macau’s Christopher (Kit) Keelen, an Associate Professor of Literature and Creative Writing. ASM (Association of Stories in Macao) is a non-profit community publisher based in the Macao SAR of China.

New Staff Member: Paul Clifford

Westerly Magazine welcomes Paul Clifford to our staff. As the new web guru Paul will be in charge of the Westerly Website and has already made some great changes. Paul is currently studying English at UWA as an Undergraduate student.

Australian Poetry Since 1788

Featuring poetry from Dennis Haskell and Lucy Dougan this anthology contains over 1000 poems from 170 Australian poets, as well as short critical biographies, this careful re-evaluation of Australian poetry makes this a superb book that can be read and enjoyed over a lifetime.
